'ELLO ME OLD CHINA!

First lady welcomed to Muswell Hill

By Julia Gregory

julia.gregory@nlhnews.co.uk

PUPILS at a Haringey school helped Britain's charm offensive with China last week when the country's first lady and wife of president Xi Jinping paid them a visit.

Students at Fortismere School, in Muswell Hill, contributed towards the improved diplomatic relations and trade ties between the two countries when they entertained Peng Liyuan, who was on a four-day state visit to the UK with her husband.

She tapped her hands as the youngsters performed traditional Chinese songs and poetry for her in Mandarin during the visit last Wednesday.

Mrs Peng is an ambassador for children's education and a famous singer in China.

She was accompanied by education minister Nick Gibb, who is involved in a Shanghai maths teacher exchange.

As children from Year 9 performed a traditional Chinese song, Where are My Friends, which helps them learn numbers in Chinese, Mrs Peng tapped her hands in rhythm.

Pupils from Year 8 also performed an educational song called Body Parts.

She was welcomed to the school by head boy Charlie Lumsden, 17, from Haringey, Mabel Canham, 17, from Muswell Hill, who gained an A* in her Mandarin GCSE, and 11-year-old Esme Charlesworth, from Finsbury Park, who intends learning the language.

Mrs Peng told the students: "I understood everything you said and your songs and poems."

And she told them if they had the chance to speak to people in China their language would improve even more.

Pupils started learning Mandarin at the school, in Tetherdown, in 2008 and participate in exchanges with a school in the Chinese capital, Beijing.

Charlie Lumsden said: "I stayed with a family out there and it was good to see each other's culture."

Mrs Peng also joined a class of girls to discuss culture and the status of women.

She told them: "There is a gap between male and female leaders, but I suppose in some parts of the world it is similar."

The pupils, from a range of classes, asked her questions in Mandarin.

Afterwards their teacher Adam Moorman said: "They were excellent. I'm very proud of them, they had excellent Chinese."

Boldly going to Ally Pally...

A STAR Trek mission has been launched to seek out scale models made by enthusiasts of the USS Enterprise and its crew.

Scratch-built or mass produced miniature-sized replicas of other space ships and figures featured in later TV and film spin-offs from the original series are also wanted as exhibits for a Star Trek-themed display at Alexandra Palace in January when the venue stages the annual London Model Engineering Exhibition.

Residents are being urged to turn out cupboards and search lofts or sheds for Star Trek models or ephemera they've made or collected over the decades and then take a snap of them.

The picture should then be emailed, along with details of the model, the approximate year it was made or bought and any special memories associated with it, to rebecca@eventspr.co.uk

Park assault

A "UNKEMPT-LOOKING" man assaulted two women after they asked him to stop feeding pigeons in Finsbury Park.

The first attack happened just before 8.30am on Friday, October 16.

Another woman, in her 20s, witnessed the attack and was also assaulted as she came to the first victim's aid.

Neither woman was seriously injured.

The suspect is described as a white man with a ginger beard.

He was wearing black trousers and a black jacket, say police.

Anyone with information is asked to call police on 101 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555.

Jailed: Ziggy Brown and Ozgur Salih

Robbers behind bars

TWO violent robbers captured by armed police as they tried to make a getaway with cash stolen from a Wood Green betting shop were sentenced to a total of six years behind bars last week.

Flying Squad officers swooped on Paddy Power bookmakers in Lordship Lane after an eyewitness saw the duo ambush a member of staff at the bookies as he arrived to unlock the premises on the morning of September 7 earlier this year.

The worker was bundled inside by balaclava-clad Ziggy Brown, 29, and 18-year-old Ozgur Salih.

His jacket was pulled over his face and he was threatened and forced to hand over the keys to the safe.

As police arrived the robbers ran from the back of the premises and were quickly caught and arrested.

Brown, of no fixed abode, was jailed for four years at Wood Green Crown Court on Wednesday and Salih, of Doveridge Gardens, Enfield, was sentenced to two years in a detention centre after both pleaded guilty to robbery.

Detective Inspector Nick Blackburn, of the Flying Squad, said: "They put the victim through a terrifying ordeal and this sentencing should send a strong message to those considering involvement in commercial robbery. I would like to thank the member of the public who witnessed the offence and rang police to ensure these two men were apprehended."

Trial date is fixed for Maoist cult leader over rape charges

Trial date:
Aravindan
Balakrishnan

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

THE trial of a Maoist cult leader accused of raping and imprisoning three of his followers over the course of 30 years is scheduled to begin next month.

At a pre-trial hearing at Southwark Crown Court on Monday, the trial date was set for November 11.

Aravindan Balakrishnan, 75, of Latymer Road, Edmonton, denies 19 counts of indecent assault, one count of cruelty to a person under the age of 16, four counts of rape and one count of false imprisonment.

He was charged with the series of offences after police arrested him at his home in Brixton, south London, in 2013.

All the charges relate to three women, one British, one Irish and one Malaysian, and are said to have taken place over the course of 30 years, between 1980 and 2013.

It is alleged that the women were part of a communist cult which Balakrishnan had formed in the 1970s and were being held against their will as part of a political collective.

Appearing in the dock at Southwark Crown Court dressed in grey trousers and a blue jacket and carrying a plastic carrier bag, he spoke only to confirm his name.

He was permitted by the judge to leave the dock and sit at the back of the court beside his solicitor as he complained of not being able to hear proceedings.

He remains on bail.

The trial is expected to last for four weeks.

Police appeal to find Roger

POLICE have appealed for help to find a vulnerable missing man.

Roger Pryor was last seen near North Middlesex University Hospital, in Sterling Way, Edmonton, last Wednesday. The 63-year-old, who is from Edmonton, suffers from mental health problems and needs daily medication.

A police spokeswoman said: "He becomes vulnerable if he travels to an area he does not know."

He is 5ft 11ins tall and of heavy build.

He was wearing jeans, black trainers and a burgundy coloured jacket when he disappeared.

Anyone who has seen Mr Pryor, pictured right, is being asked to call 101.

Ruth McKee meets the man aiming to take over at City Hall next May

"I WORRY about today's Londoners, I worry that they won't have the chance to fulfil their potential," Sadiq Khan says as the Advertiser's first interview with the Labour mayoral contender draws to a close.

"London gave me and my family the chance to fulfil our potential. My dad is an immigrant as is my mum, but to fulfil your potential you need things like an affordable home to live in and the ability to travel cheaply wherever you like in the capital."

The implication is that another four years of Conservative rule at City Hall would see an end to the social mobility that Mr Khan and his family benefited from thanks to the security that their council home, good local schools and easy transport links gave them.

The battle to follow Boris Johnson as Mayor of London is already being framed in terms of a council-estate kid made good versus privileged Tory Zac Goldsmith, heir to a different kind of estate altogether.

But, despite their differing backgrounds, both candidates have been quick to prove their social mobility credentials.

For example, listed among Mr Khan's "priorities for London" is a pledge to create a London Living Rent – but how could this work?

Not only would the figure have to be calculated differently for each zone, but the six-figure sums of some Londoners would drown out the minimum wage pay of others.

"In Enfield, you have a really good London Assembly member in Joanne McCartney and she would be arguing with me and lobbying me to ensure that it would be a real living rent that everyone could afford," he insists.

But would implementing rent controls be fairer and easier?

"I don't have the power to do that, but I will be lobbying government for that power," says Mr Khan, who has been the MP for Tooting since 2005.

Sitting in the heart of Capel Manor's manor house, tucked away in the grounds of the horticultural college, the thundering HGVs of Bullsmoor Lane seem distant – but step outside

London gave me the chance to fulfil potential, says Labour's candidate for mayor

JOHN MACDONALD-FULTON

the gates and the concerns of residents living around the road on the other side of the A10 becomes clear – traffic tails back from the junction with the Great Cambridge Road as far as the entrance gates.

The MP for the area, Enfield North's Joan Ryan, sits beside Mr Khan. She has been vocal in her support for the campaign to build a slip road from the M25 directly to Mollison Avenue, which would by-pass the residential streets off Bullsmoor Lane.

Does Mr Khan support the proposal? "I do think you can address the issues of air quality but also make sure that we keep getting the jobs and growth that this community needs," he says.

But what about congestion as a whole in the capital – would he get tough on air pollution in London by extending the congestion zone, for example?

"No," he is emphatic, adding: "There would be no extension to the congestion charge."

"The zone was put there to reduce congestion in central London and to bring in revenues that would improve public transport. I'm not in favour of extending the congestion charge, but I am in favour of extending the ultra low emission zone."

But with a promised fare freeze on public transport for four years and no extension to the congestion charging zone, how would he pay for the transport infrastructure improvements London needs?

"I was minister for transport in the Labour government and that included London," he says. "I was the minister in charge of Crossrail. I was the minister in charge of both cycling and buses, so I know a little bit about transport in London and I know that what we can do is to encourage people to use public transport and in order for them to do that. It has got to be affordable."

The seven months until the mayoral election in May next year will see battles framed around the contrasting backgrounds and styles of the candidates – Mr Khan, a quick-talking campaign-hardened politician, versus the environmental campaigner and Conservative poster boy, complete with private school polish.

In London, voters could relate to Mr Khan's upbringing. On the other hand, there could be just as great a number keen to keep the status quo and have another blond old Etonian at the helm in the capital.

THE gardens of Capel Manor have been transformed into the grounds of a Creepy Manor this week as spooks and ghouls arrived to entertain visitors.

The venue is hosting its annual Halloween Festival until Saturday with attractions designed to send a shiver down the spine.

Children got the chance to explore the haunted Creepy

Manor ruins, have a go at carving pumpkins into traditional Jack O'Lanterns and make their own witches' broomsticks.

Youngsters also met animals, including lizards, snakes, terrapins and spiders, in the company of Capel Manor College's student group Team Capel.

The venue, in Bullsmoor Lane, Enfield, is also screening spooky Halloween films and there is even a chance to meet ghosts on an adults-only haunted walk at the manor house tomorrow.

On Saturday, young visitors can become little monsters at a face painting stand and also join in Halloween workshops to make their own spooktacular props.

The attractions are free after paying the admission price, which includes entry to the gardens.

Tickets cost £5.50 for adults, £4 for children and £15 for family tickets for two adults and up to two children.

Mental health services under the microscope

TV cameras invited in for Panorama production

By Julia Gregory

julia.gregory@nlhnews.co.uk

A HEALTH trust which cares for patients in Enfield has featured in a BBC programme which examined the pressures facing mental health services.

Barnet, Enfield and Haringey Mental Health Trust allowed the cameras from Panorama in to look at the experience of patients as they go through the system.

The trust is responsible for a population of one million in Enfield and the neighbouring boroughs of Barnet and Haringey and is a major employer, with 2,800 staff.

Reporters visited the trust over several months to see how it spends its annual income of £190million.

The current affairs programme wanted to look at the impact the reduction of bed numbers had on health care and how staff decided who to admit or send home.

A Panorama spokesman said: "We filmed with the nurses as they dealt with the suicidal, aggressive and the isolated in the community and heard how the system is so overloaded and other support services so decimated that staff feel they often struggle to meet all their patients' needs."

Maria Kane, chief executive of Barnet, Enfield and Haringey Mental Health Trust, said: "The documentary was a fair portrayal of what it is like for staff on the front line, in acute care, in the community and for the bed management teams facing the pressures of increasing admissions."

She thought that the programme captured some of the challenges faced by staff and said it put mental health squarely on the national agenda.

One of the trust's clinical directors Katrin Edelman said: "Every day we try to provide the very best care for our patients. We help them to recovery."

The TV cameras visited patients in hospital and in the community.

Crews also filmed people who were brought in under a Section 136 order, which allows police to take people they believe have mental health problems to a place of safety where they can be detained for up to 72 hours while they get a mental health assessment.

Panorama's Britain's Mental Health Crisis was screened on Monday night and is now available on BBC iPlayer.

On the national agenda: Maria Kane, chief executive of Barnet, Enfield and Haringey Mental Health Trust

Composer on song for choir's new CD

A CHOIR for young people is launching its Christmas CD which it recorded with celebrated British composer Dr John Rutter.

The Children's International Voices of Enfield spent three days recording Christmas carols with Dr Rutter, the choir's patron, along with harpist Heather Wrighton.

Dr Rutter is joining the choir on Sunday to help launch the CD, which he produced and edited.

The RutterFest CD includes 11 of his Christmas pieces as well as music by other composers and marks the group's silver jubilee.

The choir runs six sections for children and young people aged from four to 24 in Enfield.

The singers will be gathering at their regular meeting place at Palmers Green United Reformed Church, in Fox Lane, between 4pm and 5pm for the launch.

Dr Rutter is celebrating his own 70th birthday with a concert at St Paul's Cathedral next Thursday (November 5) when he will premiere a new choral piece, The Gift Of Life.

He is the composer of a range of choral work including Carols for Choirs, Gloria and Requiem.

The CD costs £10, with all proceeds going to choir funds.

'You've bin wasting our money'

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

FINANCE chiefs have hit back at Tory claims that residents' money is being squandered on new security measures designed to protect the council's fleet of bin lorries.

Joanne Laban, the deputy leader of the Conservative group on Enfield Council, accused the local authority of squandering nearly £500,000 on new security equipment at the Morson Road transport depot, in Ponders End.

She slammed the £419,950 which councillors have agreed to spend on installing CCTV cameras, saying that the investment should have been made when the local authority bought the depot in 2013.

"This shows that when it really wants to the Labour council can find the money," she said.

"We often hear the council blaming the government for lack of funds, but then it can pull £419,950 out of the bag for security on a site that some people might not know exists."

But council bosses have poured cold water on her criticism, telling the Advertiser that the funds come from the capital budget rather than the revenue budget.

A council spokesman said that with the "£10million of equipment housed at the depot it would be a false economy to scrimp on making sure the site is theft-proof".

He added: "As part of wider efforts to review expenditure across the council's operations, we will be investing in a one-off payment to improve CCTV coverage across the depot and increasing security at the depot's access points."

"This one-off payment will enable us to save money by reducing on-site security patrols and demonstrates that we are adopting sensible, proportionate and responsible steps to protect our assets and prevent possible financial loss and disruption to services at a time when our budgets are being squeezed."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Richard Power feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Enfield, Edmonton, Palmers Green, Winchmore Hill & Southgate areas and Richard is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Richard a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

A cracking night out...

Back with a bang: 2013's display at Alexandra Palace marked its return after a four-year break

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

WITH controversy still raging over the cancellation of the Enfield Town fireworks, the organisers of festivities in a neighbouring borough are calling on residents to venture south to enjoy Bonfire Night fun.

After a four-year hiatus, the fireworks display at Alexandra Palace came back with a bang in 2013.

And now, as local authorities all over London scale back their funding of public celebrations, the team behind this year's Fireworks Festival at Ally Pally on Saturday, November 7, are calling on families from Enfield to come and watch Bonfire Night sizzle from the heights of the palace.

With a dedicated family area, complete with bonfire and safe areas for parents and children as well as a funfair and German beer festival inside the palace itself, it is being billed as a celebration of all things Guy Fawkes-esque.

A spokesman for the Ally Pally team told the Advertiser: "There is going to be something for everyone, from adrenaline junkies flocking to the funfair, to family fun.

"The ice rink will be open during the day and there will be an oom-pah-pah band as well of course as a laser show and fireworks display."

Tickets costing £9 for adults and £6.50 for a children can be bought from www.fireworks.london. Children under the age of 10 go free.

But for those not wanting to venture beyond the borough's borders, the Walker Ground, in Southgate, will be hosting its annual fireworks display on November 7.

Tickets for that can be bought via <http://www.thewalkerground.co.uk/fireworks>

Help avoid a pumpkin horror show

RESIDENTS in Enfield are being urged to prevent a glut of used pumpkins swelling waste landfill sites this Halloween by recycling them or creating delicious dishes.

A series of special events is being held in the borough this Saturday and throughout next week.

More than a million pumpkins are bought in the UK to be hollowed out and carved into Halloween mask or lanterns.

A frightening amount of the flesh and the gourd itself ends up needlessly wasted, says the North London

Waste Authority, when it could be used in delicious recipes or composted.

NLWA has launched a Wise Up to Waste Campaign and a series of pumpkin-themed event sis being held.

At Arnos Park Community Garden on Saturday from 10.30am to 12.30pm, the public can sample and learn how to make pumpkin soup, carve pumpkins and learn how to compost the waste.

On the same day from 2pm to 4pm at Broomfield Park, in Palmers Green, people will be able to take part in a pumpkin "sports day".

And Great British Bake Off contestant Urvashi Roe will demonstrate how to include pumpkins in everything from cake to hummus at the Library cafe, in Enfield Town library in Church Street, at 5pm on Thursday, November 5.

And from November 1 to November 8 people can dispose of unwanted pumpkins by dropping them into a special box outside the gates of Arnos Park Community Garden where they will be turned into compost.

Columnist

Terry Neville
Enfield Council
Conservative group leader

DOUG Taylor bleats on once again in his last column about cuts, without acknowledging two inescapable facts.

First, Labour in government by its profligacy and excessive borrowing caused the present crisis in the public accounts.

Secondly, and more importantly, the public rejected these arguments in May and elected a majority Conservative government with a manifesto commitment to continue austerity in order to reduce and eliminate the deficit.

Mr Taylor implies that Conservatives are saying that cuts can be avoided. We have never said this – on the contrary we were pressing his administration between 2010/14 to plan ahead, but they buried their heads in the sand confident that a Miliband government would be elected.

Fortunately, the electorate saw through Mr Miliband and Mr Balls' smoke and mirrors economy. It's intriguing to read Mr Taylor's assertion about investing in the future. Is the £3.5million spent purchasing Sломans Farm without it going to market an example of wise investing, or perhaps he has in mind the exorbitant minimum £26m to purchase leasehold a highways depot that should have been bought freehold for a third of that, or the £400k on a failed, needless and unwanted landlords registration scheme?

We can but hope that, to use the cliché, "lessons will be learned". I somehow doubt it, however.

Wake up and fight for our libraries and museums

EACH time I visit the John Jackson Library, in Bush Hill Park, I think that it may be the last time I will be able to borrow books and audio tapes, or use the IT facilities.

The council's plans for library restructuring are going ahead and our local library will never be the same again. At best there may be a much inferior facility on the site in the future run by volunteers.

Where these volunteers are going to come from I have no idea and neither do I suspect has the council.

If there are no volunteers, the library will close.

I read with dismay that the local studies centre and museum at the Dugdale Centre is now the subject of a "consultation process", which will be the precursor to its digitalisation and downgrading.

The online council questionnaire is depressingly familiar as it has a similar format to the one circulated regarding the library restructuring. Some consultation!

Retaining the status quo is not offered as an alternative and clearly the council has decided to cut these services to save money regardless of people's views.

Instead of fronting up and admitting this though, it pretends that the proposed changes will somehow provide a better service. Wake up residents of Enfield – fight to retain your libraries and museums – once they are gone it will be too late.

Welfare reforms will hit cancer sufferers

MACMILLAN Cancer Support is highlighting the extra financial burden that many people with cancer face, due to extra costs as a result of treatment and/or a loss of income.

We are also warning that potential changes to the benefits system could leave many without a financial lifeline.

More than 2,200 people with cancer in London depended on a Macmillan grant in 2014 to help them with costs of their treatment, receiving about £642,200 for vital essentials such as heating bills, clothing, bedding and transport to and from hospital.

Nationally, more people with cancer than ever before (more than 85,000) also depended on us to understand and access the government benefits and tax credits system, including getting help to fill in complex and often time-consuming forms, as well as tribunal representation from our benefits advice services.

The growing number of people with cancer turning to us with money worries is a stark reminder of the financial impact of a cancer diagnosis when, on average, their income halves and their outgoings rocket.

Every sector has a duty to protect people with cancer from further financial turmoil.

Yet the government, through its Welfare Reform and Work Bill, is proposing to reduce the benefits of people with cancer who are currently unable to return to work by about £30 a week.

Macmillan is calling on the government to remove the proposed cut as we believe it will risk pushing the most vulnerable over the edge financially.

People can find more at our Put the Fair into Welfare campaign site at <http://bit.ly/1Oad8NU>.

Macmillan offers financial and benefits advice to anyone affected by cancer.

To speak to one of our welfare or financial experts, call us free on 0808 808 00 00, from Monday to Friday, between 9am and 5pm, or visit <http://bit.ly/1LdKXtG>

Green belt is not for building

AS an Enfield resident, a teacher and a parent of young children, I am disgusted that it is proposed to sell green belt land to Fairview for housing and for a religious-based school. The borough needs a secondary school, but certainly not one built on the green belt, or a Church of England secondary school, or an academy.

Green belt is protected land, a haven for wildlife. Green belt is not for developers to make millions of pounds out of building over.

Please sign the petition to save this land – there is a link on the www.enfieldroadwatch.co.uk website.

Name and address supplied.

MP's views on consultation are welcome

I WELCOME Keith Bilton's suggestion for a proper discussion on the future of Enfield's museums ("Consultation is closing the museum by stealth", Advertiser, October 21).

I would also welcome David Burrows' involvement in this matter and would encourage him to impart some advice with Enfield Council on how to keep open these important services.

He has after all voted with his party on several occasions to cut funding to local councils and so must be aware of potential efficiencies to be made.

He is an MP who has sensible priorities, which he focuses his campaigning efforts on (same sex marriage and asylum seekers), so I'm sure some gentle encouragement from his constituents would secure his involvement in this matter.

Cycling cash better spent on hospitals

REGARDING the Enfield cycle scheme – are the management in another world, not Winchmore Hill?

How can I get home to my house in Vicars Moor Lane? Would I have to drive to the Green, then down Wades Hill, then down Vicars Moor Lane?

And how about those who live at the bottom of Vicars Moor Lane?

Also, how are people going to deliver possibly heavy or fragile items to the hospice in Winchmore Hill Broadway if they can't park their cars nearby?

Where will members of St Monica's Church park if the parking areas are taken away? They can't all go to church on bicycles.

I feel the £30million would be spent more usefully on improving hospitals and increasing the number of staff.

Primary school's former deputy head dies at 76

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

FRIENDS of a deputy head-teacher who dedicated his life to the education of young people in the borough are calling on those who knew him to get in touch in the wake of his death.

John Lawrence, 76, of Clarence Road, Ponders End, died on Monday October 19. He had been suffering from cancer.

He taught and was deputy head at Winchmore Primary School, now known as Highfield Primary School, in Highfield Road, Winchmore
Hill, from 1971 to 1989.

Graeme Jeal told the Advertiser that the two men had been friends since both were pupils at Tottenham Grammar School in the 1950s and 1960s.

"He left Enfield and went to study teacher training in Southampton after school, but even when he wasn't living here, we would always go on holiday together," Graeme said.

The duo set off together for Yugoslavia in 1964, a journey into the European communist bloc that whet their appetites for exploring far-flung places.

"In the 1970s we travelled to Bali, Bangkok, Hong Kong," Graeme added.

"He loved travelling and one year, with another friend, we travelled to Hawaii.

"He just loved new things and finding out about foreign places and people."

Graeme said that John's extended circle of friends were devastated when he was diagnosed with prostate cancer last year.

"But right to the very end, when he was very unwell, he would make the effort to come and meet a small group of friends every week in Enfield Town," he said.

And although John had retired from teaching, he would still meet ex-pupils wherever he went in the borough.

"He was a regular customer at
Holland and Barrett in Enfield
Town and one day he was shopping when the sales assistant recognised him as her former teacher," Graeme recalled.

"He was thrilled that people remembered him so well and so fondly."

John also enjoyed journeys closer to home and was a particular fan of the 377 bus
- a route he had campaigned to be kept when Transport for London threatened to axe it.
It runs between Ponders End and Oakwood Underground station.

Graeme wants to let former pupils and his friends know that a provisional date for John's funeral has been set for November 9 at Enfield
Crematorium, Great Cambridge
Road, at 3pm.

Fondly remembered: John Lawrence, who died earlier this month

Safety campaign: Enfield Council has joined forces with the Metropolitan Police to fight car crime

Drivers advised how to steer clear of car crime

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

IN a bid to cut down on car crime in the borough, the local authority has launched a campaign alongside the Metropolitan Police directed at motorists.

The Safe Enfield campaign is urging drivers to take simple steps to reduce the risk of their car being broken into.

Enfield Council's lead on community safety Yasemin Brett said that by taking on board some of the police's advice, drivers can do their best to keep their cars safe.

"It's a real pain if your car is broken into or stolen," said the cabinet member for community organisations and culture.

"Not only is it inconvenient, but it can also cost you a small fortune, cause you to miss work and cancel what you had planned for that day to sort out the mess.

"It has a big effect on people."

The campaign's top tips include removing laptops, phones and iPads from a car and keeping car keys in a secure, locked place.

The campaign is also urging motorists to double-check that all windows are tightly shut and the alarm system is activated before leaving the car. They are also advised to park cars in well-lit, secure areas, particularly at night.

Over-50s leader slams 'unfair' GP pilot project

By Julia Gregory

julia.gregory@nlhnews.co.uk

A PRESSURE group for older people has criticised a six-month pilot scheme offering 15,000 extra appointments for patients if they travel to two GP surgeries.

Enfield Clinical Commissioning Group has funded the extra appointments at two surgeries in the borough – at Green Lanes Surgery, in Green Lanes, Winchmore Hill, and at Evergreen Primary Care Centre, in Smythe Close, Edmonton.

The appointments are available until the end of March next year between 4pm and 8pm on weekdays and between 9am and 5pm on Saturdays.

Patients can gain access to the service via their own GP practice if it is unable to offer an appointment within 48 hours or from the NHS 111 service, by dialling 111.

However, the move was challenged by Enfield Over 50s Forum at the CCG's governing board meeting two weeks ago.

Monty Meth, the president of the forum, said the money would be better used if it was shared among all the GP surgeries across Enfield.

"I fear that this surgery-open-all-hours facility for more than 300,000 Enfield residents could be the beginning of the end of the long-standing personal and friendly relationship patients have always had with their local GPs."

'Grossly unfair': Enfield Over 50s Forum president Monty Meth

He added: "We have to kill it before it kills us."

He said that 60 to 70 per cent of the cases at some appointments are taken up by elderly people, some of whom were frail and disabled, or mothers with young children, or patients with mental health problems.

Mr Meth added: "Dragging them to a surgery miles away they do not know is a grossly unfair imposition and more likely to damage their health than improve it."

Dr Mo Abedi, Enfield CCG chairman, said it was "supporting this initiative to help improve access to GPs and to reduce pressure on busy A and E departments, especially as we approach the winter months when patients are more likely to become ill and need to be seen quickly."

The pilot will be evaluated with a view to commissioning the service.

How to deal with a tricky situation...

The firm recently helped Keith and Vera. The married couple lived together in a house owned solely by Keith. He also kept his large savings in his sole name. Keith liked to be in control of affairs. Keith also had a half share in a flat he bought for their daughter Sarah to occupy. The only asset belonging to Vera was an account held jointly with Keith. The money in the account was an inheritance Vera received from her late mother's estate. The couple made mirror Wills when Sarah was born, gifting their estate to each other and then to Sarah on the death of the survivor.

Keith was an active man until one day he fell and broke his hip. When he came out of hospital he was not the same person. He became forgetful and found it difficult to manage the finances. He struggled to climb the stairs to his bedroom. Vera found it difficult to attend to Keith's care needs because she herself has issues with her health. She came to see Stennett Solicitors for advice. She was worried about contacting Adult Social Services to help with Keith's care because her neighbour "lost everything" to pay for his care and she did not want her daughter to lose her inheritance. Vera was advised by a friend to put everything in Sarah's name so "Social Services can't touch it!" When Vera tried to sort out Keith's finances his bank refused to speak to her because her name was not on his accounts. Vera wanted to move to a smaller property near to her daughter but was worried about how she could do this without her name being on the deeds.

The first thing we did was to put Vera's mind at ease regarding paying for care. People in need of care in the community either fund the care themselves ("self funders"), seek assistance from Adult Social Services or the NHS. Social Care given by the Local Authority is means tested. In some cases the responsibility for paying for care falls on the NHS where you can show the person needing care has a "primary health need". We advised Vera to approach the Local Authority for help in putting together a care plan, because her husband needed care and she required support. We informed her that the council had a duty to carry out a financial assessment and Keith's retirement income and savings up to a limit would be assessed as available to pay for care, but the property and their joint account would be disregarded. The property is ignored because Vera lives there and the joint savings would be disregarded in the means test because it is made up of money belonging solely to her. We advised Vera that Keith should resist any attempt by the Local Authority to take into account the value of his share in the flat he held jointly with their daughter to pay for his care. We said Keith's share in the property had little or no value anyway because a prospective purchaser would not pay anything for a share in a flat that was occupied.

We saw Keith the following week, and after assessing he had capacity, prepared a Lasting Power of Attorney appointing Vera and Sarah as his attorneys. Following the registration of the Lasting Power of Attorney at the Court of Protection, Vera and Sarah were able to get access to Keith's bank accounts. Our clients took the opportunity to prepare Property Protection Trust Wills giving extra protection to their estates.

The firm's estate agency department successfully marketed the property for sale and found Keith and Vera a pleasant bungalow to move to close to where their daughter lived.

Don't suffer in silence: Victims of domestic violence are being urged to report abuse (picture posed by models)

'Get help', victims of violence urged

By Julia Gregory

julia.gregory@nlhnews.co.s

CAMERA operators used CCTV to help police locate a man after an alleged assault on his partner at a restaurant in Edmonton.

The Enfield Council CCTV team spotted the man and his partner on camera in Fore Street and gave the location to police, who arrested him.

The alleged incident took place at about 10pm on Sunday, October 11, and the council's cabinet member for community organisations and culture Yasemin Brett said she was delighted the council had played a part in tackling domestic violence.

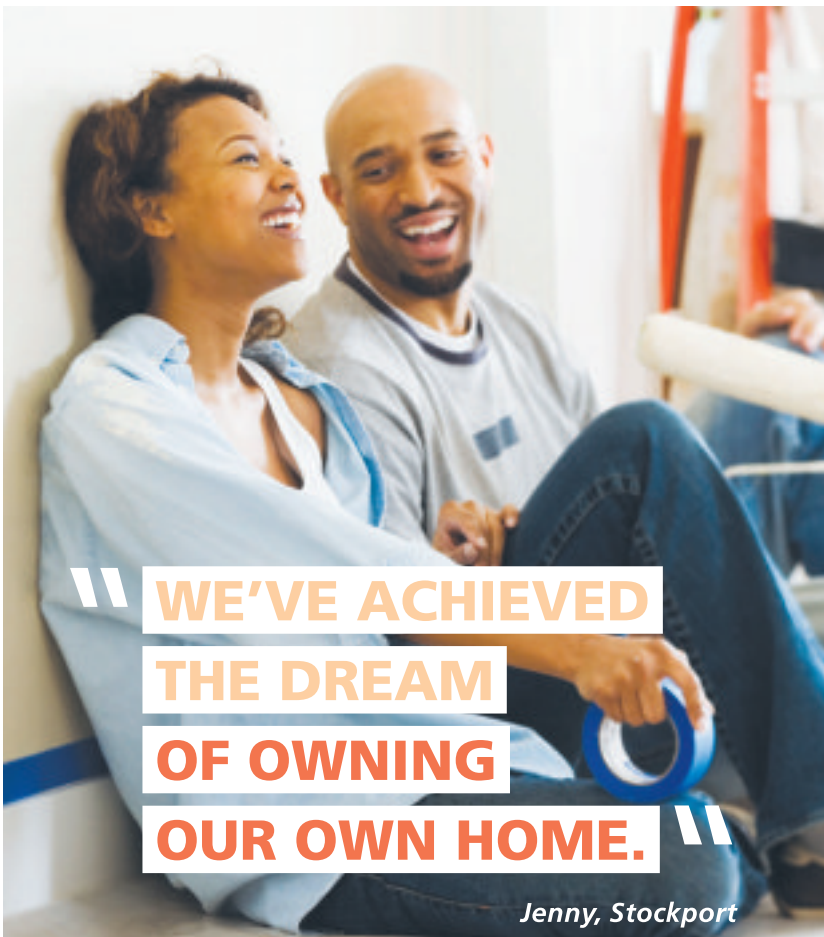

"I'd urge anyone who is a victim of domestic violence to seek help," she said.

"It is a terrible, debilitating and harrowing crime, which strips its victims of their dignity and self-respect."

She added that people can get help escaping from domestic violence.

The council is advising people affected by the issue to contact the National Domestic Violence Helpline on 0808 2000 247 or the Solace Women's Aid Advice Line on 0808 802 5565.

Have you always wanted to buy the home you live in?

Then Right to Buy could open the door to making it happen. If you've been a council tenant for at least 3 years, you could get a discount of up to £77,900 (or £103,900 if you live in London) towards buying the home you live in.

Find out if you are eligible for a discount and can afford to buy:

www.communities.gov.uk/therighttobuy

0300 123 0913

HM Government

FOR COUNCIL AND HOUSING ASSOCIATION TENANTS

DREAM OF OWNING YOUR OWN HOME? RIGHT TO BUY COULD OPEN THE DOOR FOR YOU

Right to Buy is the scheme that helps eligible council and housing association tenants to buy their home at a discount on the market value.

Since discounts were increased in 2012, over 35,000 people in England have become homeowners through the Right to Buy scheme.

Could this be the right time for you – or somebody you know – to join them?

You can get a maximum of 70% off the price of your home – up to a cash value of £77,900, or £103,900 in London. Each year this discount increases by the rate of inflation.

Recent changes in eligibility mean you now only need to be a secure council tenant for three years instead of five before you can apply to buy your home. So now could be the ideal time to take that next step. Buying your home is a life-changing decision and a commitment you shouldn't make without seeking expert impartial advice. First you need to find out whether you're eligible and if you can afford it.

Who qualifies for the Right to Buy?

If you're a tenant and can answer 'yes' to the following questions, then you are likely to be eligible to buy your current home through Right to Buy:

- Are you currently a council tenant, or were you living in your home when the council transferred it to another landlord (usually a housing association)?
- Have you been a council or housing association tenant for 3 years or more?
- Can you confirm that you do not live in sheltered housing or other housing designed for elderly or disabled people?

Tenants also need to be free from legal problems with debt or outstanding possession orders, and your home mustn't be due to be demolished.

The government has plans to extend Right to Buy. If you're a housing association tenant and currently not eligible for Right to Buy you can sign up to receive updates on the scheme by visiting our Right to Buy website.

You can also look at other government schemes that might help you on www.ownyourhome.gov.uk.

How much does it cost?

Home ownership brings many benefits such as freedom to make changes, a sense of pride and an investment for the future. But it's not the right choice for everyone and one of the biggest questions to answer is "Can I afford it?"

When you buy a home you need to budget for one-off costs and ongoing costs. And you need to allow for your finances to change in the future.

The one-off costs could include stamp duty, professional fees for a survey, conveyancing and other legal costs. The ongoing costs include mortgage or loan repayments, repairs and maintenance. If the property is leasehold (usually a flat) there will be an annual service charge and ground rent. There is plenty of guidance available to help you add up what this means for you.

Working out your budget

We have an easy-to-use calculator on our website to help you work out what discount you could get and if you can afford to buy.

The Money Advice Service offers free, impartial advice on budgeting, mortgages and other financial matters. You can contact them on 0300 500 5000 or go to their website at www.moneyadviceservice.org.uk.

With the Government's official Right to Buy adviser service, you can get free and impartial advice as well as the help and support you need throughout the process of buying your home from filling in the application form to completing your purchase – if you decide it's the right choice for you. The advisers can provide information on finding a mortgage, appointing a solicitor and arranging a survey.

If you are midway through buying and have a problem, get in touch with the adviser service and they can help you.

The advisers are available from Monday to Friday, 8am until 6pm. You can phone, email or chat online.

What to do next

If you decide that home ownership is the right choice for you, and you want to find out more about Right to Buy, have a look at our website or speak to one of our advisers. If you decide to go ahead you will need to fill in the application form and take the process forward with your landlord.

HOW MUCH DISCOUNT COULD I GET?
The longer you have been a tenant, the bigger the discount you could get off the market value of your home. The discounts for houses and flats are worked out differently.
Buying a house Example 1 Current value: £110,000 Years as a tenant: 10 years Eligible discount: 10% (10% x £110,000 = £11,000) Discount value: £11,000 Price you pay for house: £99,000 (£110,000 less £11,000)	Buying a house Example 2 (London) Current value: £110,000 Years as a tenant: 10 years Eligible discount: 10% (10% x £110,000 = £11,000) Discount value: £11,000 (50% discount would be £110,000 which is above the 10% discount) Price you pay for house: £99,000 (£110,000 less £11,000)	Buying a flat Example Current value: £110,000 Years as a tenant: 10 years Eligible discount: 10% (10% x £110,000 = £11,000) Discount value: £11,000 Price you pay for flat: £99,000 (£110,000 less £11,000)

Putting in the spadework

All set: Browne staff at the Tatem Park site before the start of the operation with Enfield mayor Patricia Ekechi and cabinet member for environment Daniel Anderson

By Julia Gregory

julia.gregory@nlhnews.co.uk

A TEAM of construction workers staged their own Groundforce-style challenge at a popular park.

The workers from Browne Construction, of Kinetic Crescent, Enfield Lock, asked if they could take on a project in an Enfield park as part of a team-building exercise.

Enfield Council suggested they help dredge a pond and plant flowerbeds at Tatem Park, in Palmers Green.

They brought specialist equipment with them and donated plants, including sedums, which attract butterflies, to spruce up the park.

The project included planting flowerbeds, improving the entrance to the park in Hedge Lane, dredging weeds from the pond and adding extra aquatic plants to the water.

Enfield mayor Patricia Ekechi and cabinet member for environment Daniel Anderson visited the park to cheer on the teams.

Mr Anderson said: "We are really grateful to all the staff from Browne Construction who have not only funded these key improvements to the park, but have also been working alongside our own officers to improve this area."

He added that the new plants would encourage wildlife in the park, which was opened in 1938 on the site of a former gravel pit owned by the Tatem sisters.

Digging for victory: Mr Anderson, right, with Browne's commercial director Jonathan Dodd

Expo promises to do the business...

A DAY dedicated to all things business in the borough is taking place this week.

The Enfield Expo, at the Dugdale Centre, in London Road, Enfield Town, tomorrow, will feature a raft of seminars, workshops and networking events and is aimed at preparing businesses to sell to a global marketplace.

Alan Sitkin, Enfield Council's cabinet member for business and regeneration, is championing the exhibition as the best way of helping businesses in the borough expand their sales throughout London and beyond.

Mr Sitkin, pictured above, said: "I want the council to balance the ways in which we help businesses. So as well as helping with training and things like jobs fairs we want to help businesses grow through being able to sell anything to anyone anywhere in London and beyond."

Anyone interested in attending the day can register their interest on <http://enfieldexpo.co.uk/events/enfield-expo-2015/>

Urging people to engage with the council-run exhibition, Mr Sitkin said that coming from a business background he was well-placed to understand the challenges in marketing products to new customers.

"As a business owner you need to be able to fulfil your customers' needs and these seminars will help people with that," he added.

"I think we are one of the first councils to identify that businesses need help with growing their customer base and I believe that this will really put the borough on the business map."

The only way is up!

Springing into action:
Lucy Bidmead and others
take part in a class

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

TRAMPOLINING is for kids, bouncing up and down is not meant for anyone over the age of 13 – but if that's the case, then why is a group of grown women methodically assembling mini-trampolines in the dark heart of an exercise studio?

It turns out they are not getting ready for a children's party – but rather setting up for a burst of intense rebounding, which involves performing a series of frankly improbable aerobics moves while trying (in my case) not to fall off the side of the trampoline.

Boogie Bounce is a new fitness regime, brought to the Shogun martial arts studio, in Baker Street, Enfield, by Verity Stacey, a swimming coach at the David Lloyd centre, in Carterhatch Lane, Enfield, and PE teacher at Forty Hill Primary School, in Forty Hill, Enfield.

Hailed as the best form of exercise for anyone who wants to work up a sweat, but needs to protect their joints, the exercise franchise, which is spreading through the nation in a similar pattern to Brazilian dance craze zumba, is aimed at helping people of all abilities get fit.

Verity told the Advertiser that she became evangelical about the exercise after discovering it in the aftermath of her husband's death.

"I came out of that first class and just felt so uplifted," she said. "I knew I had to bring this home, so people in Enfield could enjoy it."

Intrigued by the rising popularity of jumping around in the name of exercise embodied by Oxygen Freejump, a new trampolining park, in Acton, west London, where adults and children can jump over swathes of connected full-size trampolines, and seduced by the phrase "low impact", I decided to join Verity for a session on a mini-trampoline.

With Verity insisting that everyone can go at their own pace, according to how they're feeling, we started bouncing.

As someone who cycles to and from Alexandra Palace every day, I like to think I have a certain amount of power in my legs (those hills won't climb themselves, after all) and I thought: "Bouncing, how hard can it be?"

But it soon became apparent that bouncing, ironically, is not child's play and, not to put too fine a point on it, before the warm-up was over I was not the only person glowing a tomato-hued shade of red with sweat liberally coating my skin at a frankly alarming rate.

Faced with the prospect of bursting a blood vessel, I quickly made the executive decision to attempt all the exercises strictly at my own pace rather than try to match Verity's speed at the head of the class.

Even with a determinedly even-paced approach to the series of routines and sequences, bouncing up and down is a workout like no other.

"I used to do Insanity high intensity workouts," Verity added, "but I felt that it started to become a bit much on my knees and as this is low impact I felt it would be perfect not just for me – but for anyone coming back from injury."

With an appetite for unconventional exercise classes, the rebounding class will undoubtedly take off and anyone wishing to jump can contact Verity on 07773 644 025.

Will this be the year of my dog? MP is living in hope

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

MAYBE this year will finally be his year.

Many thought that last year he had what it takes, but he was no match for a German Shepherd named Diesel – and the year before...well, poodles are overrated.

In 2012, he had gone so close, losing out on top spot to Charlie Elphicke's Norfolk terrier Star, a noble and worthy winner, by all accounts.

But throughout the years, Cholmeley Burrowes has never lost sight of the main prize and, perhaps, with his beige coat, veteran stature and rakish charm, he could benefit from the same wave of popular support that saw another unlikely contender with a penchant for digging in allotments sweep to victory earlier this year.

David Burrowes' Labrador is once again putting the best of his four feet forward in yet another bid to be crowned Westminster's top dog.

Unfortunately, the competition does not involve a round where pooches prowl the corridors of power, primed to chase the fat cats out of parliament.

Equally, despite politics being dubbed a dog-eat-dog world, there will be no canine cannibalism on the lawns of Victoria Tower Gardens, beside the Houses of Parliament.

However, the hounds are expected to have picked up a thing or two from their masters over the years and there has been widespread campaigning to bag one of the coveted podium spots with members of the public asked to log on to <http://www.thekennelclub.org.uk/events/westminster-dog-of-the-year/> to vote for their favourite four-legged parliamentarian.

Man's best friend: David Burrowes with his Labrador Cholmeley

Mr Burrowes, the MP for Enfield Southgate, has not lost faith in his loyal companion, despite the years of defeat at the hands of rival political beasts – and this year he knows he can capture the popular vote for his pooch.

He said: "This competition is all about helping to campaign for responsible dog ownership, both in Enfield and across the country.

"Cholmeley needs your votes, so visit my website or the Kennel Club's site to register your support. After that he just needs to woo the judges with his affectionate, playful and lovable personality as well explain how he will bring about world peace."

The figurative dog fight is set to take place on the lawns of Victoria Tower Gardens on Friday.

Teenager gets two years for raid on bookies

AN Enfield teenager, one of two men who carried out a robbery on a bookmakers, is behind bars.

Ozgur Salih, 18, of Doveridge Gardens, was sentenced to two years in a detention centre at Wood Green Court last Wednesday.

Salih and Ziggy Brown, 29, were captured by armed police as they tried to make a getaway with stolen cash from the Paddy Power betting shop in Lordship Road, Wood Green, on the morning of September 7 earlier this year.

They were caught after an eyewitness saw the two ambush a member of staff at the bookies as he arrived to unlock the premises.

Balaclava-clad Brown and Salih, who had his jacket pulled over his face, bundled the worker inside and forced him to hand over the keys to the safe.

As police arrived the duo ran out of the back of the premises and were quickly arrested.

Brown, of no fixed abode, was jailed for four years after both he and Salih pleaded guilty to robbery.

Detective Inspector Nick Blackburn, of the Flying Squad, said: "They put the victim through a terrifying ordeal and this sentencing should send a strong message to those considering involvement in commercial robbery.

"I would also like to thank the member of the public who witnessed the offence and rang police to ensure these two men were apprehended."

Tribute show promises to be quite a spectacle

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

NEARLY 57 years after his untimely death in a plane crash, fans of American rock 'n' roll legend Buddy Holly continue to rave on.

His notorious hiccupping vocals, innovative guitar riffs and distinctive sound created with his band, The Crickets, produced a string of chart-topping hits in Britain and America in the 1950s.

They are recreated in a breathtaking show, Buddy Holly and the Crickets, at the Millfield Theatre in Silver Street, Edmonton, on Saturday.

The show stars some of the finest actor musicians in the UK, whose combined West End credits include the stage shows Buddy, Lennon, Forbidden Planet and Jailhouse Rock.

Wearing Holly's trademark black-rimmed glasses, Jim Newman as Buddy and his fellow band members perform the timeless tunes so familiar to generations.

That'll Be the Day, Oh Boy, Peggy Sue, Rave On, True Love Ways, Not Fade Away and It's So Easy are just some of the crowd-pleasers that are guaranteed to get the audience up and dancing in the aisles.

The show tells in music and words Holly's rapid rise to fame from wannabe rocker in small town Lubbock, Texas, to international rock 'n' roll idol.

But his rapidly growing fame was tragically snuffed out in February 1959 when the plane that he and fellow stars The Big Bopper and Richie Valens hired to fly them between shows crashed minutes after take-off from a snow-bound Ohio airfield, killing everyone on board.

It became known as The Day the Music Died, later immortalised in the Don McLean hit American Pie.

Holly, had he lived, would be celebrating his 80th birthday next year. The show is a fitting tribute to someone regarded by many as a founding father of rock 'n' roll.

Oh Boy!: Jim Newman as Buddy Holly is at the Millfield on Saturday

Spectre short on spectacle

SPECTRE (12A, 148 mins)

DANIEL Craig's licence to kill as Ian Fleming's suave secret agent comes full circle in this robust yet emotionally underpowered tale of espionage and dark family secrets that ends with a series of whimpers rather than an almighty bang.

If Skyfall popped a cork on a muscular new era for 007, becoming the highest grossing film of all time in the UK, then Spectre is the morning after when the champagne has gone flat, snacks are starting to go stale and someone has fallen asleep face down on the sofa.

That could be any of the four screenwriters, who doze off after the tour-de-force opening sequence and allow plot holes and lapses in logic to pock their narrative.

How can Bond travel around the globe unseen when he has nanobots in his blood so MI6 and the enemy can track his movements?

Would a brilliant operative like Q really whip out his laptop on public transport and conduct vital forensic analysis without a second thought for security protocols?

Death sequences are anti-climactic and the central love story barely smoulders.

M (Ralph Fiennes) battles with political forces, including Max Denbigh (Andrew Scott), to protect the integrity of MI6 following a merger with MI5.

A cryptic message reveals ghosts from Bond's past and 007 follows a chain of evidence that leads to Dr Madeleine Swann (Lea Seydoux), daughter of fugitive Mr White (Jesper Christensen), who was last seen in Quantum Of Solace.

Aided by technical wizard Q (Ben Whishaw) and agent Eve Moneypenny (Naomie Harris), Bond criss-crosses the globe in his Aston Martin DB10, infiltrating a menacing organisation named SPECTRE, fronted by the enigmatic Franz Oberhauser (Christoph Waltz).

Rome, Tokyo, Altaussee, in Austria, Tangier and London provide a picturesque backdrop to Bond's escapades as he meets his physical match in henchman Mr Hinx (Dave Bautista).

Spectre was always going to struggle to meet expectations, but it's disappointing just how far short this 24th outing falls.

At 148 minutes, the film overstays its welcome and a number of key scenes overrun, particularly the introduction of Waltz's shadowy arch villain.

Action set pieces, apart from the glorious opening salvo, lack power, sacrificing slam-bang thrills for ponderous exposition.

Craig struts and swaggers through the melee, bedding beauties who seemingly self-combust with a single glance.

Dame Judi Dench's absence is palpable, but Fiennes and Whishaw are gifted expanded roles and come into their own, while Harris is surplus to requirements.

When one of the characters rebukes Bond's recklessness and tells the agent he has gone too far, nothing could be further from the truth.

Spectre doesn't go far enough.

Celebrating the achievements of black writers

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

BRITAIN'S leading black literary and cultural luminaries will celebrate the contribution made by black writers down the ages when they perform in Enfield at the weekend.

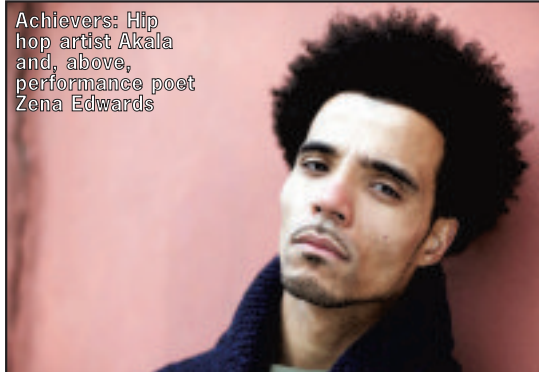

BAFTA and MOBO award-winning hip hop artist Akala, together with renowned black writer and publisher Margaret Busby and acclaimed black performance poet Zena Edwards are among the talented artists who will feature in Black Voices in Britain: Then and Now – a Celebration of Black Literature and Influence on British Life.

Organised by the Enfield Caribbean Association as part of Black History Month, the event is being held on Saturday evening at Trinity at Bowes Methodist Church, in Palmerston Road, Palmers Green.

It tells through presentations, discussions, performance poetry, song and film the origins of black British literature and how the written word helped to express the experiences of many migrants who came to Britain from Africa and the Caribbean over the centuries, whether voluntarily or through slavery.

"It shows how they were affected and the barriers they had to overcome and the significant contributions they were able to make to British life," said Palmers Green artist Desrie Thomson-George, vice-chairwoman of the Enfield Caribbean Association.

"Since the time of James Albert Ukawsaw, Britains' first black author in 1772, black people faced with similar struggles to those of today, have striven to rise above the obstacles confronting them, and to flourish," she added.

Achievers: Hip hop artist Akala and, above, performance poet Zena Edwards

Attractions will also include a youth showcase with a variety of presentations featuring Adjani Salmon, a budding filmmaker, who will show a clip from his new film, His Father's Son, and r'n'b vocalist Keya Lake, as well as Edmon-ton's The Beautiful Choir and flautist Rianne Palmer.

The event runs from 5.30pm to 10pm and includes a Caribbean buffet as well as a variety of stalls.

Enfield's deputy mayor Bernadette Lappage will open the family event, which will bring the curtain down on the month-long celebration of black culture and history.

Advance tickets for the event cost £10 for adults, £5 for children and £8 concessionary. Tickets bought on the door are £15 for adults, £5 for children and £10 concessionary.

Business hub impresses MP

THE support offered to both fledgling and established enterprises at a business hub in the borough impressed MP Joan Ryan when she visited on Monday.

The Enfield North MP toured the Wenta Business Centre, in Innova Park, Electric Avenue, Enfield Lock, which provides rented office and workshop space, plus meeting rooms, training courses and advice to businesses and start-ups.

She saw the refurbishment which Wenta, a not-for-profit organisation, has undertaken since acquiring the site from Enfield Council two years ago. Ms Ryan said: "The support in terms of a place for businesses to grow and become successful is hugely important for Enfield."

In business: Enfield North MP Joan Ryan shares a joke with Sayal Bertug, of Guardian Shipping Limited

The MP also learned how the support available to businesses had helped them to flourish.

Sayal Bertug, owner of Guardian Shipping Limited, said: "We're growing very fast and a lot of people based here use us for shipping as well. We're hoping to take on some apprentices in the near future, too."

NEW HOMES

Lanes Land Department is regularly asked to visit clients in their homes to value Land that they own. Whether it be a long garden, corner plot or block of garages, we are always happy to give advice on the most efficient potential use to maximise value for the land. As a specialist land agent Lanes Land will look to secure the best value for you. In the current market, as you have read in the national media, demand for new homes is high and supply is relatively low. With this in mind – it is certainly a good time for sellers

Now would be an opportune time to realise the best value for your land. There are buyers across the spectrum from national housebuilders to local builders. Lanes Land can work with you to identify a good quality buyer who will work with you to provide a sympathetic scheme that will enhance your immediate surroundings and provide a potential uplift in the value of your property.

Property tips

Most people love pets; however when selling a home it is best to arrange to have the dog taken for a short walk or pop the cat out the back door. Some people are uncomfortable with even the cutest animals making them nervous and fearful whilst distracting them from admiring the home you are selling.

Clubman's a family favourite

By Matt Kimberley

MINI has gone back to the drawing board with the Clubman, finally shaking off the confusing single rear door that was on the wrong side for British roads. The new one is longer, wider and more practical, with a view to targeting the likes of the Audi A1.

Under the bonnet you'll find the latest turbocharged BMW Group engines, based on 500cc cylinders. You get 1.5-litre, three-cylinder options and 2.0-litre four-pots in both petrol and diesel – and all are as effective as a spring-loaded boxing glove alarm clock on your pillow.

The front end is great, all curvaceous bonnet and cute round headlights. Move around to the sides and you'll find the two completely normal doors on each stretched-looking flank. The back doesn't share the same triumph of simplicity. It's more of a mess, with light clusters and badging that just don't work aesthetically, at least to these eyes. Splitting the "Clubman" lettering across the two doors leaves four letters on the left and three on the right. The OCD in me just isn't OK with that.

Mini is quite proud of this car's 360-litre boot and it's a fact that the Clubman makes the three-door Mini hatchback's boot seem like a small handbag. There's also a neat and little-known trick where the seats can be angled forwards, making them vertical, before re-securing them on brackets. That raises the potential to carry larger objects or increase that 360 litres to a level that at least equals the best in class. You can still use the Isofix child seat mounts when the rear seats are cantered forwards, too.

Elsewhere there's room for 1.5 and 1.0-litre bottles (at the same time) in the front door pockets. The glove box is larger than you'd expect and there's an adjustable boot floor.

Typically, the Clubman needs a bit of money spending on options to make it feel special. Navigation is standard, though, and you get the very impressive screen and iDrive interface, too. But the stereo, upholstery and wheels all benefit from upgrades if you can afford it.

The steering is very quick and seems to get faster after leaving the straight-ahead. It's easy to put too much lock on until you're used to it. This Cooper S model is plenty quick enough in a straight line thanks to its smooth and incredibly flexible 2.0-litre engine, but it could use a more exciting noise to keep it company.

Most body types will find the seats supportive and comfortable. That helps concentration, which is handy because outward visibility isn't the best, especially when the head-up display is active. Lots of headroom means you'd better raise that seat up for an improved view.

At the basic on-the-road price the Cooper S is something of a bargain compared to, say, a Volkswagen Golf GTI, but add the options you really want (or need, for residual value's sake) and the playing field is quickly levelled.

Be careful with the throttle and you could see over 60mpg on a 50mph cruise. That plunges with the enthusiastic stomping the engine tempts out of your right foot, but the potential is there if you really want to save fuel.

Anyone looking at a well-specced Golf or A1 could benefit from a look at the Clubman. The twin boot doors have one or two advantages for practicality and recesses in the front seat backs make sure there's enough room for four average-height adults without breaking a sweat. It could be a useful – and stylish – car for any two-child family.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

- Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968 and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.
- 'Classified' Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.
- To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(T)' etc. in the advertisement.
- The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:
  - (a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
  - (b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
  - (c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.
- The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.
- Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.
- The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.
- Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republishing or allowances.
- All gross advertising rates (except classified lineage and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.
- All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.
- Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.
- The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.
- Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.
- All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.
  - (i) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.
  - (ii) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.
- Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for settling the advertiser of this liability.
- All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.
- All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.
- The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.
- The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers
Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies. Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Holiday & Travel Category
All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

Data Protection
The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search at a credit-referencing agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies. However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or tracing debtors.
Data controller will use your information for administration and analysis. We may share your information with other Tindle Group Newspaper companies or carefully selected third parties. We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services, which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by letter, telephone or other reasonable means of communication. Calls may be recorded or monitored for training purposes.
Special conditions apply with regard to the advertising of adult services, which are outlined to all persons submitting such advertisements.

Graduate Teaching Assistant – Fixed Term Contract to 31.8.2016
Start Date: 1st January 2016

We are looking for a Teaching Assistant who is an inspiring graduate, with a good class honours degree (or equivalent), to work alongside senior leaders and class teachers to accelerate the learning of pupils

The successful candidate must demonstrate the following:

- Willingness and ability to support children in school to progress their learning
- Flexible and a good team player
- Have high expectations of self and others
- Possess excellent interpersonal skills.

Hours: 35 hours per week x 39 weeks per year, term time only
Actual Salary Range: £18,430 to £20,071 pa inc. term time only (Scale 5)

We offer a commitment to professional development, and a friendly supportive environment.

Applicants are warmly welcomed to telephone the school office and arrange a visit.

Application forms and further details are available from the school office or E-mail: office@wilbury.enfield.sch.uk

Closing Date: Thursday, 19th November 2015
Interviews Date: w/c 23rd November 2015

KANE'S HAT-TRICK LIFTS TOTTENHAM

By Dominique Stafford

sport.enfield@nlhnews.co.uk

HARRY KANE expressed his delight after ending his goal drought in fine style by hitting a hat-trick in Tottenham Hotspur's crushing win at Bournemouth on Sunday.

The striker has struggled to match his stunning exploits of last season in the early months of the current campaign and had only scored once for Spurs prior to the match.

But he put his problems in front of goal behind him by netting three times to help Tottenham recover from falling behind early on to romp to a 5-1 victory which saw them climb up to sixth place in the table.

"As a striker you are going to go in and out of spells," he said. "I've not had a bit of luck that maybe I had last season and this was the day it changed with chances coming my way.

"You're never going to just be on a high, you're going to have ups and downs. It's about maintaining your focus, not getting too carried away and trying to stay patient. That's what I've been doing.

"I don't think I've been doing that badly overall. In this match the ball dropped for me nicely and I was able to put it in the back of the net. I feel I've been playing well, as a team we're playing well and I'm delighted to get the three goals."

While Kane was delighted with his own display, he was even more pleased with the overall team performance as Spurs extended their unbeaten run in the league to nine matches.

He added: "Bournemouth started well, but other than the first five minutes it was one of the best performances we've had. We played well, pressed high and created chances. Overall we're delighted with the way we played, especially scoring the five goals. It was a good day for us.

"We haven't lost in the Premier League since the opening day of the season. Confidence is sky high, we're playing well and even the draws we've had we could have won. We're slowly climbing the table, we're happy with where we are and we have to keep progressing and getting better."

Back among the goals: Harry Kane scored three times for Spurs against Bournemouth on Sunday

Head coach Mauricio Pochettino believes that Kane will feel the benefit of having gone through a difficult spell in the long term, and also expressed his satisfaction at the way in which the side bounced back from their slow start.

"It's important for us, for the team and for Harry," he said. "We always believed in him. Now he can understand the good and the bad in football. He'll have learned a lot during this period. In football, sometimes you learn a lot in the bad moments.

"I was very pleased with the reaction of the players, which was fantastic. We fully deserved the win and created even more chances.

"It was a very difficult game against a team that looks to play on the floor, runs a lot and is very aggressive, and our effort was fantastic in the way we pressed and put them under pressure.

"For me, it's the way we reacted after we conceded the early goal. The mentality was strong and the way we played, we pushed hard, put them under pressure and after that we were clinical in front of goal."

Borough still stuck at the foot of the table

HARINGEY BOROUGH remain stuck at the foot of Ryman League Division One North after suffering a 2-1 defeat at home to Phoenix Sports on Saturday.

Struggling Borough, who have only won once in the league all season, started the match brightly and took the lead through Jerome Martelli on 30 minutes.

The hosts maintained their advantage until the interval, but Phoenix Sports came storming back in the second half and levelled the scores through Harrison Carnegie in the 58th minute before Ricky Freeman grabbed what proved to be the winner ten minutes later.

Meanwhile, Borough gave a good account of themselves before eventually being beaten 4-2 when they made the trip to table-topping Cray

Wanderers on Tuesday last week.

The visitors belied their lowly league position in a fast and frenetic encounter but fell behind on 18 minutes when Mike Frieter latched on to a long ball forward and beat keeper Ashley Harris from close range.

But Borough hit back superbly and turned the match around in dramatic fashion as Jorge Djassi-Sambu headed in Leroy Griffiths' free-kick to equalise within two minutes, before Griffiths scored with a free-kick from just outside the penalty area three minutes later to give them a shock lead.

Cray were clearly rocked by this double strike, but they managed to regroup and grabbed a spectacular equaliser on the stroke of half-time when Aryan Tajbakhsh scored with an unstoppable shot into the top corner of the net from the edge of the box.

Only a fine save from home keeper Nick Blue prevented Borough from retaking the lead in the second half, and this proved a key moment as Cray went back ahead on the hour courtesy of another fine strike from Tajbakhsh.

The visitors used the pace of Martelli and Kwame Asamoah to good effect as they tried to get back into the match, but they were undone on the break with 15 minutes remaining as Leigh Bremner drilled the ball into the net from close range to seal Cray's victory.

Haringey Borough go to Dunstable Town in the first qualifying round of the FA Trophy on Saturday (3pm) and visit Erith Town in the London Senior Cup on Tuesday (7.45pm).

Thomas to make Skolars return

FANS' favourite Rob Thomas has handed the London Skolars a huge boost by completing his return to the rugby league club.

The 24-year-old prop forward started his career with the London Broncos in 2011 and played in two Super League games before joining the Skolars the following year.

Thomas made a huge impact with the Skolars prior to moving to Kingstone Press League One rivals Hemel Stags, but he has now decided to make his return to the New River Stadium for the 2016 season.

"I'm really happy to be back at the Skolars," he said. "I've really missed the environment that has been created at the club and when Jermaine Coleman [head coach] offered me the chance to come back, I jumped at the opportunity.

"I'm looking forward to a big pre-season, working hard with the boys and having a really successful year personally and as a team."

Coleman added: "Rob is a superb signing for us. He is a player who will be well known to all at the club and is one of the league's most damaging runners with the ball in hand. He has great skills for a prop and I'm excited to see Rob back with us here at the Skolars."

And winger Alex Anthony has joined Thomas in deciding to return to the Skolars after a spell away from the club.

Another product of the London Broncos campaign, Anthony enjoyed an impressive campaign with Hemel last time around – scoring 13 tries in 16 appearances.

A club spokesman said: Alex is a proven try-scorer and is able to play at full-back or wing. He will add a threat out wide and will be looking to cement his place in what is becoming a very strong squad, with further signings to be announced."
